LloydPans to Spotlight Cake Pans, Cheesecake Pans and Regional Style Pizza Pans at IBIE 2019

Spokane Valley, Washington – LloydPans team of food solutions experts will be descending on Las Vegas for the International Baking Industry Exposition IBIE2019, showcasing the company's innovative line of cake and cheesecake pans, as well as helping bakers add regional-style pizzas to their lunch and dinner menus.

As one of the leading pizza pan suppliers in the industry, LloydPans has recently worked with several retail bakeries on regional pizza line extensions for lunch and dinner. The work has proved successful for bakeries in increasing post-morning sales and attracting a new customer base. At its IBIE booth, LloydPans' food solutions experts will be educating attendees on how to use existing ovens for baking pizza, and the types of pans needed to add pizza to the menu.

LloydPans will specifically be spotlighting its Roman-Style Pizza Al Taglio pans and Detroit Style Pizza pans. These two regional pizza offerings are served by the slice and have delicate crusts that require extended fermentation times and a baker's knowledge of dough.

Also on display at LloydPans' booth will be a complete line of cake pans and cheesecake pans, featuring the company's proprietary Silver-Kote® coating. This coating improves baking performance, eliminates pre-seasoning and never requires re-glazing or re-coating. The company's cake and cheesecake pans come in multiple sizes and shapes. New at this year's show is a recently launched 8x4-inch cheesecake pan that provides a depth rarely seen with cheesecake pans.
